The Group is fully committed to the promotion of, and the ethos underpinning the inspiration for, the transition towns movement, both here in the UK and internationally. In particular, we are gravely concerned to initiate and foster the kind of life-style and community changes, with respect to such issues as local food growing, local waste re-use and re-cycling and local food wastes composting, which we perceive as forming an essential need - if we are to successfully meet the future demands upon our society, due to the combined effects and synergies of global climate change, post peak oil economics and macro-economic system reform.

In this regard we are gravely concerned about the lack of policy provision appearing in the Deposit Draft version of the LDP, as that bears on the opportunity to promote land uses for environmentally friendly uses which will be needed in future in order to contribute to the sustainability of our society and our communities. The following three matters are the ones which we picked out as of particular importance, but are by no means intended to be a comprehensive list. No provision specifically locally based community composting

Provision for land used for waste recycling is geared to large scale district facilities only.

No provision for pro-active promotion of land for allotments
